OVER THE WIRES.

Telegraphic Miscellaneous Carefully Culled From Sundry Sources.

Over in Oklahoma.

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 23.—This town is in a fearful muddle. A number of town site companies were organized previous to the opening to take charge of things, and now each organization wants to have things its own way. The consequence is that the locators have been holding meetings all day trying to come to some amicable agreement as to width of the location and the direction of the streets. As soon as a meeting would adjourn, having settled things as those participating supposed, somebody would call a convention somewhere else and a totally different plan would be agreed upon. Thus the day ended.

WITHOUT ANYTHING DEFINITE

having been really agreed upon by the mass of locators. To-morrow will dawn upon a community as badly befogged as they were this morning. This will have a bad effect on the town, and unless trouble of some nature has arisen at Guthrie since 7:30 yesterday evening when this correspondent left there, that place will have a long lead over this place in the race for metropolitan honors. The Kansas man has been the most prominent figure. He may be a jayhawker and mudeat fisherman in general, but when it comes to a town lot squabble he is

AN ARTIST OF THE FIRST CLASS.

Whoever falls into soup in the final round-up here, the man from Kansas will be quietly and industriously floating in the swim. House building is being rapidly pushed, in spite of the unsettled condition of real estate. House frames have been shipped in already fastened together, and setting them up and nailing on the sides and roof were so easily done that a good many of them presented an almost finished appearance when night came on. Provisions are hard to get here. Boarding places are scarce and sleeping arrangements are of the crudest. If the clouds hanging overhead at this writing let down the threatened rain the night will be to very many people. The ground here is low and inclined to marsh, and a hard shower will make an almost boundless and bottomless mud hole.

A report reached here this evening that a cattleman named McLeod had been shot and killed by a cowboy in a quarrel over a disputed claim about five miles south of this place and three miles west of the railroad. This is the only killing reported in this section, and it is not well authenticated. A good many slight injuries are reported among those who were too eager in jumping from moving trains. One man showed up here to-day with a badly damaged face and two very black eyes from lighting head first. Another broke an arm when he struck ground. One man in crossing the river lost his pants and coat containing $250 and a gold watch. Most everybody seems to be in good humor. All are taking matters very coolly. A good many have given up the hope of making anything and left, but many more are arriving to take their places.

Outwitting the Detectives.

NEW YORK, April 23.—Word was passed around yesterday among the produce brokers of the produce exchange that the whereabouts of Wm. R. Foster, Jr., the lawyer who swindled the gratuity fund of the exchange out of nearly $300,000 by means of a forced mortgage, had been learned of at last. The news came from Foster himself in a private letter addressed to an old acquaintance of the exchange, and mailed in an obscure town in Mexico, where Foster has been since his memorable flight from the city.

It was last summer, it will be remembered, the startling disclosure was made that he had been systematically robbing the gratuity of which he was attorney, and on the very day on which the matter was made public he negotiated a loan of $10,000 with an up-town bank and disappeared. Until the receipt of his letter no word has been heard of him. His hiding place was a mystery.

Pinkerton's men have tried to find him, his photograph and personal description had been sent to every city in the civilized world and a large reward was offered. No clue followed and until yesterday no one had the slightest idea where he was. When last seen he was on a train in Vermont, going to Canada, and how he got to Mexico is yet to be explained. It is not stated whether or not his adopted daughter shares his exile.

The President Petitioned.

PITTSBURG, April 24.—At a conference of the National Reform association, now in session here, a resolution was adopted requesting President Harrison to mention Christ in his state papers, especially his thanksgiving proclamation. The conference is attended by over 100 prominent ministers and others from all parts of the United States.

Seceding Knights of Labor.

DETROIT, Mich., April 23.—An evening paper says the National convention of machinery constructors, Knights of Labor, are in secret session in this city with about 200 delegates in attendance. They are from all over the United States, representing draughtsmen, pattern makers, moulders, boiler makers, blacksmiths and machinists. It transpires that it is the work of this convention which brought Powderly to Detroit. It has leaked out that this combination of Knights of Labor assemblies, the most in vential in numbers in the United States, have instructed their delegates to take steps to secede from the Knights of Labor and to resolve themselves into a trades union and have representation in the federation of trades. The movement is based on the claim that the general management of the Knights of Labor serves them in one good stead in their relations with trade, that it is an organization which deals with abstract principles while their immediate interest is of more importance, and that this interest will be better subserved in the trades union.

A Woman's Fickle Affections.

SHERMAN, Tex., April 23.—The Evening Democrat publishes to-day an interview with a citizen of the third ward in which the citizen states his trials and tribulations. He has been married for several years, and until a few weeks ago got along pleasantly at home. About that time he secured a man to help him. It seems that his wife's affections were transferred to his hired man. A day or two since he returned home to find her gone and to subsequently learn that she and the man aforesaid had rented a house in South Sherman and were living quite contentedly and refused to see otherwise, notwithstanding his many protests. It seems that the wife had owned a wagon and team at the time of her marriage and this she had taken and it is being used by her last flame.

A Tough Character Taken In.

PANIS, Tex., April 23.—At a late hour last night W. T. Ladd, of Goodland, I. T., went to a house of bad repute in the northern limits of the city, raised a row with the inmates, and a fight ensued in which he struck a young man named Jake Blum over the head with his pistol, inflicting an ugly wound. Blum's friends started to his assistance, when an Indian deputy sheriff stood them off with a pistol. Officers went to the scene and arrested Ladd and he was tried to-day on a charge of aggravated assault and fined $25 and costs and placed under bond for his appearance at the county court for carrying a pistol. He claimed to be a United States deputy marshal, but such was not the case, and the federal grand jury will investigate his case. He had applied to Marshal Reagan for a job but failed to get it. Ladd is a hard case and left swearing vengeance against the officers.

Combine Against Cuney Et Al.

HOUSTON, Texas, April 22.—At a meeting of the Central Republican club of Houston held to-night, resolutions were adopted which will be forwarded to President Harrison and his cabinet officers, protesting against the appointment or recognition by the administration of Wright Cuney, DeGress and their cohorts.

The I. O. O. F. Receivership.

PALESTINE, Tex., April 23.—A creditor of the International road, holding a judgment against the company for $7500, filed his plea of interrogatio in the district court here to-day, and asks for an extension of J. A. Hearne's receivership. Negotiations are pending between the attorneys representing the Tyler and Palestine receivers, with a view to a final action by the supreme court, now sitting at Austin.

Ground For the Killing.

CLEBURNE, April 24.—A. H. Hudgens, who killed J. A. Hughes, in a statement to-day, said his wife, while a helpless lunatic, became addicted to the use of morphine. She is improved mentally but her health is ruined by the use of stimulants. Hughes worked for Hudgens and during the latter's absence seduced Hudgens' wife while she was under the influence of the drug. Hudgens confessed and the killing was the result.

Moderate Doctor Bills.

NEW YORK, April 23.—In the suit of Dr. C. E. Simmons for the recovery of $143,350 from the estate of the late Samuel J. Tilden for professional services, a motion was made to-day that the case be sent to a referee. The plaintiff claims to have made 2200 visits at $50 each, and also demands a compensation for time since 1878 when he held himself in readiness to devote his attention exclusively to Mr. Tilden, pursuant to an arrangement between them. The council for Mr. Tilden's executors denied any arrangement for Mr. Simmons' exclusive services, and characterized the doctor's claims as most extraordinary, and insist that it was not a case for a referee. Decision was reserved.
